SONG OF THE LARK IN THE CITY.

BY THOMAS HOOD.

The rainy mist was hanging low,
Creeping slow—
Creeping along the crowded street,
Dulling the echo of busy feet,
As the throngs passed by in a ceaseless flow,
Hastening, hurrying, to and fro.

Overhead was a sky of lead,
Never a glimpse of blue to be seen—
Never a gleam the clouds between—
And heart sank low with doubt and dread:
And thoughts of the morrow,
Its care and sorrow,
And the toil for daily bread,
Filled my heart with a wild misgiving:
"Without a friend to love or pity,
All alone in this crowded city—
Where is the use of living?"

Trill—trill—trill!
The song of a lark
Scattered the visions dreary and dark,
And woke my heart with a thrill!
Poor little lark, in its tiny prison
It chanted its sweet song over and over,
As if it were only newly risen
From the fields of emerald wheat and clover;
And the notes came pouring,
Heavenward soaring—
Up—up—up;
As if the cup
Of its happiness were overflowing
Out on the hills, with a fresh breeze blowing;
And the sky to eastward redly glowing
In the bright green country far away,
At the morn of a sunny summer day.

Sorrow vanished—gloom was banished—
Forgotten the dreary misty weather;
And long leagues off, where the corn was green,
Up in the sunlight's golden sheen,
My heart and the lark were mounting together,
High—high—high
In the bright blue sky!

Trill—trill—trill!
And cheerily still
The lark, in the midst of the busy city,
Over and over sang its ditty;
Raising my soul like a holy beatitude:
So, with all gratitude,
Cheered and chastened,
Onward I hastened.
Blessing the bird for its merry song,
That haunted my heart the whole day long.

THE CLEAN FACE.

OR THE BOY WASHED BY HIS ELDER SISTER.

Oh! why must my face be washed so clean,
And scrubbed so hard for Sunday?
When you know very well, (as you've always seen,)
'Twill be dirty again on Monday.

My hair is stiff with the lathery soap
That behind my ears is dripping,
And my smarting eyes I'm afraid to ope,
And my lips the suds are sipping.

There down my throat and up my nose—
And to choke me you seem to be trying—
That I'll shut my mouth you needn't suppose,
For how can I keep from crying?

And you rub as hard as ever you can—
And your hands are hard—to my sorrow!
No woman shall wash me when I'm a man;
And I wish I was one to-morrow.

I don't care how much I frighten the dog,
And I care for no stranger that passes,
And still I will cry till you wipe my face dry,
And give me some bread and molasses,

Select Miscellany.

MRS. WOOD'S VISIT.

"It is a real shame, Maggie, that I've not paid you a visit yet; but you must not think hard of me, for, I declare, I've set a day of every week since you have been in the neighborhood to go and pass a day with you. You know my family is large, and I have a great deal of sewing to do; but next Friday I have determined I will go, and take my work along. We are not half as sociable as people ought to be; but I can't get time to visit as much as I'd like to, and, I declare, I believe this is the first time you were ever in our house."

I walked slowly home from Mrs. Wood's, for I was busily thinking. The fact is, I thought her rather fast. We had not been in the village but a few weeks, and she had already called on us twice. That morning I had gone up street on an errand, and it being very warm, had stopped in at Mrs. Wood's to rest a few minutes. I had not asked her to our house, and was entirely unconscious that we had received any slight by her and her children not having, as yet, spent the day with us, until she informed me of the fact, amid regrets and apologies. We were really in trouble about the unexpected visit, not that Mrs. Wood was at all unpleasant, but the children—I grew sick as I thought of them, for they were a noisy and unruly set.

Early Friday morning there came a knock at the front door that echoed over the whole house. Trying to feel resigned, I opened the door, but it was with utter despair that I closed the door after Mrs. Wood's and five small children. I took them to the sitting-room, but heartily wished afterwards that by some means we could have stumbled into the kitchen.

"Well, I've got here at last," broke in Mrs. Woods, as she deliberately laid aside her bonnet.

"It is really too bad that I have left it so long; but as I told Maggie the other day, I have been so very busy."

We were scarcely seated when the children seemed to think some attention due them.

"Mother, I want a piece," yelled Charley, the second hopeful. "So do I," said another. "And me, too," chimed in a third.

"Oh! be still; you certainly are not hungry yet," said Mrs. Wood, in a whining, coaxing way.

"Yes, I am, and I want a piece," replied Charley, with a defiant, impudent look.

"Well, then, ask Maggie right pretty to get you a piece," said the mother, as she picked up the crying baby from the floor. I did not say anything, but in very good humor laid down my work and went to the pantry,

"And this is but the beginning of the day," I thought, with a sigh, as I took up my work again. The children grew quiet while eating their bread and butter, and the baby went to sleep. Then Mrs. Wood took up her bag and drew forth her work.

"Maggie, I want to make myself a light cloak from the pattern of your spring cloak; dont you think it will make a pretty one?" and she gathered the goods up in folds to display it to the best advantage.

Of course I thought it would make up well.

"But I have no pattern of my cloak, Mrs. Wood."

"Well, now, I'm real sorry for it; but perhaps you and I could cut it out from the cloak. I have heard several times how handy you were about cutting anything you wanted to, and I just brought this goods along to-day on purpose to get you to help me about it." And she smiled insinuatingly.

"I never cut one without a pattern," I replied; "and would not like to undertake it. I paid for my learning, too," I added, mentally.

"Well, let me see your cloak, anyhow. I guess I can do it myself.

So I went up stairs and took the cloak from a trunk where I had intended it to stay all summer. Then Mrs. Wood wanted to know how this was done, and how that was cut, and wished she had a pattern, or had the cloak cut. I was very busy with my work and did not take the hint, for I did not wish to have anything to do with it. Finally she asked me for paper and scissors, so that she might cut a pattern. Just then the four eldest children, who had slipped out some time before, came bouncing in with,

"Oh! mother, we got such good berries out in the garden; don't you want some?"

"Why, how do you know that the folks allow you to gather them?" studying intently on her pattern. "Don't pull any more, dears." So away they all ran, like so many wild horses, and into the garden, I suppose to help themselves.

Mrs. Wood now had the fronts cut, and said she guessed she could cut the backs without any pattern. I thought differently, but did not say so. Just then the baby wakened up, yelling so that I could not hear a word the mother was saying, and I heaved a heart-felt sigh as I saw my work box set down on the floor for its amusement. I took occasion to need something in it, and took it from the baby. In a few minutes the mother asked where it was, but I pretended not to hear her.—She then went to the door and called to the children to come and play with the baby. Two were in the cherry trees, and the others deep among the blackberry bushes, and from the looks of their hands and faces I judged they had found plenty of fruit. I sighed again as I thought of the jam we had intended to make of the berries, and savagely wished the "dears" were under my control for about fifteen minutes.

I went into the kitchen to light the fire in the stove, and having got the dinner on the way, went into the room for something, and there the children were, building a house of stove wood which they had carried in from the shed; but it was rather more than I could bear when I saw that Charley had my cloak wrapped around him and over his head, as he sat on the floor playing "peep" with the baby—it pulling for life at the tassel. I forgot everything there, and I know I took it from him much quicker than he put it on. I was not aware at the time that I gripped his arm so tight as to warrant a yell, but he indulged in one at any rate. I put the cloak away and retreated to the kitchen, leaving my mother to entertain them as best she could.

As soon as Mrs. Wood heard the rattle of dishes she brought her work out into the kitchen to watch us. I did not do a thing but what she saw it, and I only hope she will know all about the way I work by the next time she comes. While I went to the cellar the children amused themselves by tasting what was on the table, so their mother informed me when I came back, as though it was something very smart indeed.

At last dinner was ready, and amid all the noise and confusion we soon became seated—scarcely so, however, until three of the "little dears" were helping themselves to whatever they could reach. Then it was,

"Mother, I want some peas," and "Mother, give me a piece of meat," as though they had not eaten anything for a week. Mrs. Wood looked worried and excited, for my part I felt perfectly disgusted, and no doubt looked the same. I could scarcely refrain from uttering a few words of heartfelt thankfulness when they all left the table.

When I again joined our company Mrs. Wood had her cloak basted together, and requested me to act as a "form," while she fitted it. I was all obedience, but could scarcely suppress a smile, for it had no more fit to it than if it had been made without a single seam. She insinuated that she wished I would take the scissors and sit down and alter it for her; but I had no such idea. I told her the best I knew what to do, and went to my own work. Just then one of the children came in with some blocks, with which the baby commenced pounding a chair, leaving a scar at every blow. Another one imitated a drummer boy by beating on a new tin pan which he had taken down in the kitchen, and Charley amused himself by scattering the pins over the floor, out of the cushion. Mrs. Wood looked at them and laughed to see them enjoying themselves so much.

My head ached badly, and every thump and scream from the children went through and through it. I gathered up my work and went up stairs, thinking I'd have a quiet time, for a little while, at least.—Here I found the other child overhauling things generally. After having satisfied himself as to the contents of drawers and closets, he had riddled a couple of "Waverleys." This was about as much as human nature could bear, and I could have spanked him with a right good will, but contented myself by sending him down stairs much quicker than I supposed he came up.

I laid down to rest my throbbing head a few minutes, and the next I knew I awoke from a long sleep.. My head was better, and I went down stairs. The children were all out playing, and their mother reading. The cloak was folded up and put away. Then supper had to be gone through with—attended with even worse noise than at dinner. The children all drank tea from the oldest to the youngest; and one had too much sugar in his, another not enough, third said the tea was not good, and wanted coffee, (which he did not get.) If Mrs. Wood corrected any of them, they generally answered, "I wont do it," or "do it yourself." Then she raised her voice above all others, and entertained us by telling about her cookery. I thought if all she said was true she must cook very differently for her family and for company, for I had had it from reliable sources that she could never set a decent looking table; and I thought, too, no wonder her children acted so starved abroad.

I never saw a much worse looking house than when we left the table—everything was scattered everywhere. I may as well avow I am a little bit "old maidish," and it really hurts my feelings to see things so out of order. I scarcely knew where to begin; but, finally, in the course of an hour, succeeded in cleaning out most of the rubbish—getting the tin pans hung up, etc.

Just at sunset Mrs. Wood gathered up her work and babies and started home, amid many pressing invitations for us all to come and see her.

It was with feelings of the greatest relief that I closed the door after her, and turned again into the now quiet room.—So great was the reaction that I felt as though I had just awakened from some terrible dream, or had been rescued from a living death, and I do hope and pray that I may ever be spared the pleasure of being at home when Mrs. Wood and her children come to spend the day.

☞ Were you ever at a darkey campmeeting? Well, they "holler" some.—One old darkey of my acquaintance was reproved one day by his master for shouting so at his "private devotions." Pompey, with a grave face, said:—

"I guess massa don't read de Scripters wid much 'tention."

"Ah! how's that?" said the master.

"Why," said Pomp, with a knowing look, don't de Scripter say, "Hollered be Thy name?"

DAN. WEBSTER ON SECESSION.

The leading Breckinridge men in the South all recognize the right of the State to secede from the Union, and most of them advocated a resort to that remedy if Lincoln was elected President. The manner in which peaceable secession could be accomplished was described by Daniel Webster in his great speech upon the Compromise bills in 1850. In referring to the threats of secession which had been uttered in the debate, he said:

Mr. President, I should much prefer to have heard from every member on this floor, declarations of opinion that this Union could never be dissolved, than the declaration of opinion by any body, that in any case under the pressure of any circumstances, such a dissolution was possible. I hear with distress and anguish the word "secession," especially when it falls from the lips of those who are patriotic, and known to the country, and known all over the world for their political services. Secession! Peaceable Secession! Sir, your eyes and mine are never destined to see that miracle. The dismemberment of this vast country without convulsion! The breaking up of the fountains of the great deep without ruffling the surface! Who is so foolish, I beg every body's pardon, as to expect to see any such thing? Sir, he who sees these States, now revolving in harmony around a common center, and expects to see them quit their places and fly off, without convulsion, may look the next hour to see the heavenly bodies rush from their spheres and jostle against each other in the realms of space, without causing the wreck of the universe. There can be no such thing as peaceable secession. Peaceable secession is an utter impossibility. Is the great Constitution under which we live, covering this whole country—is it to be thawed and melted away by secession, as the snows on the mountain melt under the influence of a vernal sun, disappear almost unobserved, and run off? No, sir! No, sir! I will not state what might produce the disruption of the Union; but, sir, I see, as plainly as I see the sun in the heavens, what that disruption itself must produce; I see that it must produce war, and such a war as I will not describe, in its two-fold character.

Peaceable secession! Peaceable secession! The concurrent agreement of all the members of this great Republic to separate! A voluntary separation, with alimony on the one side and on the other! Why, what would be the result? Where is the line to be drawn? What States are to secede? What is to remain American? What am I to be? An American no longer? Am I to become a sectional man, a local man, a separatist, with no country in common with the gentlemen who sit around me here, or who fill the other house of Congress? Heaven forbid! Where is the flag of the Republic to remain? Where is the eagle still to tower? or is he to cower, and shrink, and fall to the ground? Why, sir, our ancestors, our fathers and our grandfathers, those of them that are yet living amongst us with prolonged lives, would rebuke and reproach us; and our children and our grandchildren would cry out shame upon us, if we of this generation should dishonor these ensigns of the power of the Government and the harmony of that Union which is every day felt among us with so much joy and gratitude.

Peaceable secession, Mr. Webster deemed an impossibility; and this opinion was also expressed by President Jackson in his celebrated Proclamation. Old Hickory pronounced secession to be revolution. Breckinridge secessionists are, therefore, according to the Jackson standard of Democracy, revolutionists. Such old patriots as Jackson and Webster considered the admission of a State into the Union a political marriage, which could not be dissolved at the pleasure of one of the parties. It was a Union which the laws of divorce could not reach.

A PRETTY GOOD STORY.—A tolerable good story is told of a couple of raftsmen, based upon an occurrence during the late big flood and storm on our western rivers, in which so many rafts were swamped and so many steamboats lost their sky rigging. A raft was caught in a dangerous place just as the squall came. In an instant the raft was pitching and writhing as if suddenly dropped into Charybdis, while the waves broke over it with tremendous uproar; and expecting instant destruction, the raftsman dropped on his knees and commenced praying with a vim equal to the emergency. Happening to open his eyes an instant, he observed his companion not engaged in prayer but pushing a pole into the water at the side of the raft. "What's that yer doin', Mike?" said he; get down on yer knees now, for there isn't a minit betweenn us and purgatory!" "Be aisy, now; what's the use of praying when a feller can tetch bottom with a pole?" Mike is a pretty good specimen of a large class of christians, who prefer to omit prayer as long as they can "tetch the bottom."

"Husbands, Love Your Wives."

Only let a woman be sure that she is precious to her husband—not useful, not valuable, not convenient, simply, but lovely and beloved; let her be the recipient of his polite and hearty attentions, let her feel that her care and love are noticed, appreciated, and returned; let her opinion be asked, her approval sought, and her judgment respected in matters of which she is cognizant; in short, let her only be loved, honored, and cherished, in fulfillment of the marriage vow, and she will be to her husband and her children, and society, a well spring of pleasure. She will bear pain and toil, and anxiety, for her husband's love is to her a tower and a fortress. Shielded and sheltered therein adversity will have lost its sting. She may suffer, but sympathy will dull the edge of her sorrow. A house with love in it—and by love, I mean love expressed in words, and looks, and deed, for I have not one spark of faith in the love that never drops out—is to a house without love, as a person to a machine: the one is life, and the other a mechanism.

The unloved woman may have bread just as light, a house as tidy as the other, but the latter has a spring about her, a joyousness, an aggressive, and penetrating, and prevading brightness, to which the former is a stranger. The deep happines at her heart shines out in her face. She is a ray of sunlight in the house. She gleams all over it. It is airy, and gay, and graceful, and warm, and welcoming with her presence. She is full of devices, and plots, and sweet surprise for her husband and her family. She has never done with the romance and poetry of life. She is herself to all pure and gracious melodies. Humble household ways and duties have for her a golden significance. The prize makes the calling high and the end dignifies the means. Her home is a paradise, not sinless, nor painless, but still a paradise; for "Love is Heaven, and Heaven is love."

"In times of peace prepare for war," says the popular political adage. There is much more meaning in this than most people are aware of. It does not simply urge us to prepare arms, munitions, ships of war, and strong fortifications. It has something more than this mere literal significance. It tells us that in all departments of life we should prepare for the "wet days" during the fair ones—that we should labor to some purpose while the sun shineth, ere the night cometh on when no man worketh. In times of peace and prosperity we have the leisure and opportunity to deal with and study abstract questions and principles. These are our intervals of study and reflection, when it behooves us to get our lessons so thoroughly that there shall be no hesitancy in the recitation; when we shall become so well grounded in theory as to make practice easy; when we shall become so embued with correct principles that we cannot be led astray when the moral atmosphere is thick and full of the blinding heat of passion; when we should acquire strength to maintain our equilibrium amid the clash of arms and the roar of cannon, standing unflinchingly for the right and passing unscathed through the fiery furnace unawed "through the valley of the shadow of death."

GUARD AGAINST VULGAR LANGUAGE.—There is as much connection between the words and the thoughts as there is between the thoughts and the actions. The latter are not only the expression of the former, but they have a power to react upon the soul, and leave the stain of their corruption there. A young man who allows himself to use one vulgar or profane word, has not only shown that there is a foul spot upon his mind, but by the utterance of that word he extends that spot and inflames it, till, by indulgence, it will pollute and ruin the whole soul. Be careful of your words as well as your thoughts. If you can control the tongue that no improper words are pronounced by it, you will soon be able, also, to control the mind, and save that from corruption. You extinguish the fire by smothering it, or by preventing bad thoughts bursting out in language. Never utter a word anywhere which you would be ashamed to speak in the presence of the most refined female, or the most religious man. Try this practice a little while, and you will soon have command of yourself.

☞ "Come, Bill, it's ten o'clock, and I think we had better be going, for it is time honest folks were at home."

"Well, yes," was the answer, "I must be off, but you needn't hurry on that account."

☞ It is a pleasant and profitable habit to store up agreeable images of the past, with a view to present and future improvements as well as enjoyment.

☞ Those persons who are continually talking behind people's backs are usually great liars.

Pretty Sharp.

There is now a pretty sharp war of words being waged between Gun-thief Floyd and some of his officers. It appears that the officers of the Wise Legion have disapproved of Floyd's conduct, and published their opinions in the Richmond Enquirer, at which Floyd is greatly grieved, and sends a letter to the Enquirer, of which the following is an extract:

"HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF KANAWHA,
"Camp on Sewell, October 6, 1861.

"In the Enquirer, of October 1, you have published certain letters, dated in Camp Defiance, purporting to be written by officers in the "Wise Legion," under my command. These persons pretended to narrate my conduct in this campaign, particularly in the late actions on the Gauley and retreat to Meadow Bluff.—Their statements are calumniatory falsehoods, having no shadow of truth for their foundation; but their intention, and not less their maliguity, is too obvious to permit me to believe that they can be injurious, either to my own reputation or that of the army which I then commanded." He then proposes to leave his reputation to history, and to his "living countrymen, who love justice." In conclusion, he demands the names of the officers who invented and published the libels against "their general, that they may be tried by the military tribunals, and punished according to the laws of the army."

To this letter the proprietors and editors of the Enquirer thus reply:

"ENQUIRER OFFICE, Oct. 10, 1861.

"JOHN B. FLOYD, ESQ.—Sir: Your letter of October 6th is before us. Not recognizing any authority in yourself, either individually or as commander of the army of Kanawha, to demand the names of our correspondents, we decline to comply with your request.

"TYLER, WISE, & ALLEGRE."

The editors of the Enquirer then make the following editorial remarks:—

"We declined to furnish the names of our correspondents to Gen. Floyd, because of his purpose to seek his vindication through a court-martial, instead of the usual mode among gentlemen. Whenever Gen. Floyd proposes a personal vindication, the names of the correspondents shall be furnished.

"We shall dismiss this letter with the statement that the characters of our correspondents have never been stained by the suspicion of a crime, and that the charge of falsehood against them is much easier made than proved. They are gentlemen, the equals of Gen. Floyd, in every respect, and what they have averred in their communications, we believe to be true in letter and spirit."

Considering all that Floyd has done for the South, we think this very unkind treatment. But he appeals to history.—No doubt, "history," as well as "his countrymen who love justice," will do him justice.

THE "HOOSIER" LADIES MOVING.—A correspondent sends a report of the proceedings of a meeting of young ladies, held at Logansport, Ind., on the 30th of September, by whom it was

Resolved, That we deem it to be the duty of every young unmarried man to enlist and fight for the honor of his country, his flag, and his own reputation.

2d. That the young men, in this time of our country's peril, have but one good excuse for not being a soldier and that is COWARDICE.

3d. That the young man who now fails to respond to the call of the country, is not worthy the kind regards or the smiles of the young ladies of our native Hoosier State, and that none but ladies of doubtful age will smile on such men.

4th. That we will have nothing to do with young men who refuse to go to the war, and that "Home Guards" must keep their distance.

5th. That the young man who has not pluck enough to fight for his country, has not got the manliness to make a good husband.

6th. That we will marry no man who has not been a soldier.

7th. That we will not marry until after the war is over; and then "Home Guards!" No, never."

A WONDERFUL FORTIFICATION.—There are many wonderful natural curiosities and antiquated relics to be found in Kentucky, and one of the most remarkable of them is to be found in Allen county on the Tennessee border, and seventeen miles from Bowling Green; where a wall of solid limestone, two hundred yards in length, forty feet high, thirty feet at the base and six feet wide at the top, crosses a neck formed by a bend in Drake's creek and encloses a peninsula of two hundred acres, elevated one hundred and ten feet above the river. On the top of this natural mound is an area of three acres, enclosed by a wall and a ditch, forming one of the strongest fortresses in the world.—It is not improbable that the fortunes of war may cause this old fortification, built, it is supposed, antecedent to the race of man who held the country when discovered by Europeans—to be occupied by a hostile force, and made to play a prominent part in this civil contest.

Part of the Naval Expedition Sailed.

The great naval expedition that has been in the course of preparation in New York for some weeks begins to assume a collossal proportion. The Steamers Cahawba and Coatzacoalcos sailed on Saturday evening, carrying the Rhode Island regiment lately encamped at Fort Hamilton, besides a force of experienced surfmen, with their boats. On Sunday morning the Star of the South followed, having on board Col. Serrell's Engineer regiment, previously announced as having gone to Washington. This regiment numbers about five hundred men, all of whom are practical engineers or mechanics. During the day the transports Ocean Queen, Eagle, Daniel Webster, Ariel and Oriental also sailed on the same errand.—The remainder of the fleet probably left on Monday. The transport Rhode Island on Sunday afternoon, went down as far as Quarantine, and anchored. It is understood that the fleet will rendezvous at Annapolis, where it is stated the number of troops will be largely augmented, including infantry, artillery and cavalry.—Among the troops who are to participate in the expedition are Col. Wilson's Massachusetts regiment.

It is impossible to give a full list of the vessels that will compose the fleet, as many of them leave other ports beside New York. Among those that sailed from that port, besides the ones above mentioned are the Wabash—flag ship; the gunboats Ottawa and Unadilla, transports, Baltic, Atlantic, Cahawba, Vanderbilt, Empire City, Parkersburgh, Roanoke, Great Republic; steamships Augusta, James Adger, Florida, Curlew, Alabama, Mercury, O. M. Petitt, besides a large number of other craft of various dimensions. The Atlantic and Baltic, and others among the transports, have guns mounted. Some idea may be formed of the magnitude of the expedition, when it is stated that one of the transports—the Daniel Webster—carries little else but water for the troops. Of the destination of this large force, of course we have nothing to say. It may probably be New Orleans, or Mobile, or St. Augustine, or Brunswick, or Savannah, or Charleston, or one of the Beauforts, or Wilmington—the reader, however, is at liberty to fix the locality for himself. That the expedition will be a very formidable one, is not to be doubted. A Baltimore correspondent notes the important fact that on Thursday last fifteen thousand troops passed over the Annapolis Railroad from Washington, bound for some unknown destination, and we hear of preparations for the immediate embarkation of others. This large body of men is undoubtedly intended to form a portion of this great expedition.

NUMBER OF FIGHTING MEN IN THE LOYAL STATES.—The following table shows the number of males in the loyal States fit to bear arms, between the ages of eighteen and forty-five years, together with the population of each State, and the number of men each should send to the army to make up the half million ordered into service by act of Congress:

The troops which may be raised in Virginia, Maryland, Kentucky and Missouri, are not estimated, but considered as Home Guards or police for their respective States.

☞ At the commencement of the battle of Bull Run, Lieut. Hasbrouck, of the West Point battery, was riding a little sorrel horse, which was shot three times, and from loss of blood became too weak for further service. He was stripped of bridle and saddle and turned loose as his owner supposed to die. In the heat of the conflict nothing more was thought of the little sorrel, nor was he seen again until the remnant of the battery was far towards Washington on the retreat. It paused at Centreville, and while resting there Lieut. Hasbrouck was delighted to be joined by his faithful horse, which by a strong instinct had obeyed the bugle call to retreat, and had found his true position with the battery, which most of the human mass engaged on the field cannot boast of doing. he came safely into Washington, is now recovered of his wounds and ready for another fight.

SHOCKING RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—The Fast Line West, on Friday afternoon ran over and instanty killed a little girl aged three years, daughter of Mrs. Hopton, while playing on the track at Kinzer's station, Lancaster county. The child, horribly mutilated, was picked up by its mother. The engineer saw the child too late to check the speed of the locomotive, but blew the whistle as an alarm. A gentleman who was on the train says he never saw a more heartrending spectacle.

☞ The Huntingdon ladies have organized a knitting society for the purpose of knitting stockings for the soldiers.

THE METHODISTS AND THE WAR.—Rev. Bishop Ames, of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Indiana, lately advised his son, a young man of eighteen years to enlist for the war, and has expressed a determination to spend the winter in camp himself. The conference will soon be over; when he will have a few months release from his official duties, which he proposes thus to devote to the moral and religious interests of the soldiers. He is one of the most able and popular men of the West, and his spirit is largely shared by the ministers with whom he is associated. At the late session of the Illinois Conference which embraces but a small portion of the State, not less than ten clergymen received appointments as chaplains in the army, they having been already chosen to fill that position by the proper authorities.—The other Western Conferences are also giving some of their best men to the work.

DEATH OF AN IOWA SOLDIER.—Peter Bowers, of Fort Dodge, Iowa, attached to Captain Stratton's company, Harlan's Light Cavalry, met with an accident on Wednesday last, between Newton Hamilton and Mt. Union, from the effects of which he died on Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock. It appears he was in the act of getting on the train after it was in motion, and had succeeded in getting hold of the platform when a companion, who was also endeavoring to get on the train, came against him and he fell on the track, cutting off both his legs and inflicting other injuries. He was taken to Lewistown station and medical aid summoned, but he soon sank into the sleep of death. He was buried with the honors of war, in the Methodist Episcopal burying ground, at Lewistown.

ATTACK ON A COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT.—On last Saturday week, Mr. Swank, School Superintendent of Cambria county, was going to the station at Wilmore, where he had been holding a teachers' examination, when he was struck with a stone on the head, by some one concealed in a fence corner, inflicting a painful wound. He afterwards recognized in his assailant a young man to whom he had that day refused a certificate, for incompetency. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

☞ Henry A. Wise has been released of his command of a division of the rebel army in Western Virginia. He is called to report to the authorities at Richmond, and will be assigned some new department. That is to say, he is a failure, and is dropped at the first opportunity.

A BALTIMORE LADY TAKEN DOWN.—A letter from Baltimore says:—"An officer who came up from Annapolis was walking in the street, when he met a lady who gathered up her skirts close to her and said, "Don't touch me, you vile wretch," and passed on. The gentleman made no reply, but, turning round, followed her to a handsome house on a fashionable street, and, as soon as she entered he ascended the steps and rang the bell. A servant answered the summons, and the officer asked the name of the gentleman residing there, and said that he wished to see him. When he appeared the officer said to him: "Sir, a woman has just entered this house who grossly insulted me on the street a few moments since, and I wish to know if you are responsible for her behavior?" The gentleman turned to the lady, who was standing behind him, and said, "Annie, come here and apologize to this gentleman. I will not be drawn into scrapes by your insolence. I have told you all along that you would get yourself into trouble by your unbridled tongue, and you wouldn't listen to me; now you may take the consequences." The lady then came forward and made a full apology, and the officer left the house."

MILITARY UNIFORMS.—There is, perhaps, no department of military business in which there has been a more marked improvement than in the clothing of soldiers.—Not many years since, officers and privates were clad in garments which were almost skin-tight. They wore leather stocks, which were worthy of the name, for they kept the wearer in tribulation; while their padded breasts and tight sleeves made volition a matter of great difficulty. During the present war, such of our volunteers as procure their uniforms at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street above Sixth, Philadelphia, obtain clothing that is perfectly easy, substantial and becoming. The firm named hrve gone largely into the business of making Military Clothing, and their facilities enable them to fill the largest orders in the shortest possible time.

A Card to the Suffering.

The Rev. Wm. Cosgrove, while laboring as a missionary in Japan, was cured of Consumption, when all other means had failed, by a recipe obtained from a learned physician residing in the great city of Jeddo. This recipe has cured great numbers who were suffering from Consumption, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Coughs and Colds, and the debility and nervous depression caused by these disorders.

Desirous of benefitting others, I will send this recipe, which I brought home with me, to all who need it, free of charge. Address

Universal Confidence and Patronage.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN,

Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 18th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about 4 months since a fourth was added to them, my hair falling off the top off my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

☞ For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald.

Very respectfully,
BEN. A. LAVENDER.

To O J Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, New York.

My family are absent from the city, and I am no longer at No. 11 Carroll Place. Siamaston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O J Wood: Dear Sir—Your Hair Restorative has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC of its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all!

Yours truly, WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like. By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W H KENEDY.
WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Prof. O J Wood: Dear Sir—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1851, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to answer as the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure. FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds ½ a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

OUR APOLOGY.

For some time past we have been promising our readers that if those who are indebted to us would come forward and settle up, we would, on or about the first of October, show them something never seen in this section of the country. Well, the first of October has gone by, and we have not announced our show as opened. Of course you want to know the cause, and, to begin with, we would say that the first and most important condition of the terms, upon which we promised to furnish the exhibition, has not been complied with, viz; but few have called to settle their bills, and thus supply us with the means to purchase it. Now it is not to be expected that we can get up a show worth looking at without money. We won't go "on tick," for it, and could not get it "on tick" if we would. Again, the gentleman who is engaged in getting up the exhibition has given us notice that he can not have it completed in less than sixty days from the 1st inst., which will be about the 1st of December. Delinquent friends, you have still time enough left to settle your accounts and get in to see the show on the first day that it is opened to spectators.—Come right along, and make no delay in settling up. The show is coming, and we must have the money to pay for it. Don't delay payment because the time is six weeks in advance. It will be up before ye are aware of it, and then you'll feel bad about not having paid us—at least you ought to.

LOCAL ITEMS.

DIABOLICAL TRANSACTION.—We have this week to chronicle an act, perpetrated by one of our most respectable citizens, which, in all probability, is without a parallel in the history of any civilized nation. The facts in the case, as they have been related to us, are as follows:—A few mornings since, Mr. Pheasant, a quiet and respected citizen of Logan township, came to town and called at the Clothing Store of Mr. Daniel Laughman. What the business of Mr. P. really was is not positively known, but his previous irreproachable character for honesty, sobriety and harmlessness, warrants us in saying that he had no intention of appropriating anything which did not belong to him, or of maltreating either the proprietor or his clerk. It has leaked out, however, that Mr. Laughman and Mr. P. have never been on friendly terms, and the former embraced this opportunity of getting satisfaction out of the latter. Mr. P. evidently knew nothing about the feelings and intentions of Mr L., or else did not know whose store he was entering. As soon as Mr. P. had entered the store, the clerk jumped up and shut the door, the better to hide the foul deed about to be committed from the gaze of those who might be passing by. This done, they set upon him, and, after overpowering him and depriving him of all means of resistance, it is said one of them inhumanly struck him a blow across the neck with the bit of an axe, and then proceeded to strip him of all his clothing. What they did with his clothes is not material in this case, as it is well known that, in order to the better concealing of his body, they placed it in a pot of water and boiled it until the flesh separated from the bones, and then, cannibal like, they—ate it.

WHAT WE LIKE TO SEE.—We like to see a mechanic, or business man, who is a master of his trade or business, have plenty of customers for his work or merchandise. It shows that skill and a laudable effort to please and accommodate are appreciated. An evidence that taste in the selection of goods, skill in the art of cutting and fitting, and an accommodating disposition on the part of the "crook" of the establishment, are appreciated by many in this place, will be seen by calling at the tailoring establishment of our friend, D. W. A. Belford, on Virginia street, nearly opposite Jaggard's store. Mr. B. has the reputation of being one of the best "cutters" in the country; and those who examine his stock of goods will admit that they are not excelled by any other in the country.—This will account for the rush of work now pouring in upon him. Give him a call if you desire anything in his line.

GOOD PAY.—Suppose a private to have served one year, and that being the end of the war, his account with the Government, reduced to a cash valuation, would stand about thus:

For 12 months' pay at $13 per month	$156.00
For 12 mos.' commutation for clothing, at $3½	42.00
For 12 months' commutation for rations, at $12	144.00
For Bounty	100.00
For grant of 160 acres of land (in prospect)	160.00
Total for the year	$602.00

And supposing his average travel from the place of enrollment to the place of muster to be 200 miles, he receives $50, (50 cents for each 20 miles) and the same on his discharge; and if in the cavalry service $25 in addition.

In another column will be found the advertisement of Lieut. Geo. W. Boggs, of the Cavalry Company to be attached to the 2d Reg. Penn'a Vol's. That those who desire to enlist in such a company may have some idea of the character of the recruiting officer, it is only necessary to copy the following from a late number of the Pittsburgh Dispatch. Lieut. B. is a native of this county:—

SABRE PRESENTED.—First Lieutenant Geo. W. Boggs, of the S. Bradley Independent Cavalry Scouts, was yesterday presented with a magnificent cavalry sabre and belt by the employees of the Allegheny Arsenal. The presentation was made on behalf of the donors by James E. Overton, and received by Lieutenant Boggs with appropriate and patriotic remarks, Lieut. B. has seen service in the regular army, in the First Cavalry, company E, Captain S. D. Sturgis, now a General in the United States army. In 1857 he was in the battle with the Cheyenne Indians, under Col. Summer; in 1860 he served in an important expedition against the Kiowa and Camanche Indians, in which expedition he distinguished himself with great credit for bravery.

LEASE OF THE PHILADELPHIA AND ERIE RAILROAD.—The Board of Directors of the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad Company have agreed to the proposition of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, for the lease of the Philadelphia and Erie road. The main features of lease are as follows:

First, The Pennsylvania Railroad Company shall guaranty the bonds of the Philadelphia and Erie company to an amount sufficient to complete the road and liquidate, under a compromise, the floating debt of the last mentioned company.

Second, That the Pennsylvania Railroad Company shall possess and operate, under the lease, the road of the Philadelphia and Erie Company.

Third, That with this view, it shall purchase all the rolling stock now held by the same.

The stockholders of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company have not yet acted upon the question, but it is presumed that there will be no objection to the consummation of the lease.

AUTUMN.—Autumn, with its dim sunshine and bleary sky, its low wailing winds, and its brown seared forests, with their mellow hue—with its chill, frosty nights and its sunshiny days—its copious rains and threatening sky—is upon us. We begin to feel the chilling gale, and though we hardly agree with the hero of the song when he says of autumn—

The melancholy days are come,
The saddest of the year,
With walling winds and naked woods,
And meadows brown and sear, yet the transition of nature from the healthful, vigorous condition of summer to that of sickly, languishing autumn, when nature, throughout her broad domain, bears the marks of death and decay.

"The autumn is hale, though his brow is pale.
For his cheeks are ruddy and brown.
And he sits with a smile, where all the while,
The nuts are falling down—
And the wind is sighing all the day long,
A sweet and melancholy song."

A DISCOVERY.—Every person who has visited the hill above East Altoona, has noticed a pool of stagnant water, near the top of the hill.—This pool is known to be about four or five feet deep, and always to retain the same amount of water—summer and winter. It has been there for many years—was there when the first settlers of Altoona took possession of the soil, but no one ever entertained the idea that there were fish in—and large ones at that. Such, however, is the fact. The heavy rain of Friday night, 27th ult., caused the pond to overflow, thereby enabling several large catfish to find their way out and come on an excursion down the gutter past the East Ward School property, where they were picked out by some boys and men who discovered them. The question is, how did they get into the pond?

COMPLETED.—The new tunnel, or rather the arching of the road-way to prevent danger, &c., from the sides of the cut giving way, on the Pennsylvania Raod, near Carpenter's Station, in Westmoreland county, has just been completed. It is a well constructed, substantial piece of work, which is, however, but characteristic of all done by this Company. The abutments are all of stone range work, and the arch—twenty-seven inches in thickness—is of brick. There are 6,000 yards of masonry in it, and there were 800,000 brick used in building it. It is 550 feet in length, and is said to have cost $20,000.—The work has been under the more immediate charge of John S. Love, Esq., Resident Engineer of the road on the Western Division, and is a credit to his scientific skill, judgment and energy.

HAWK CAUGHT BY A LOCOMOTIVE.—We learn from a railroader that one night, a week or two since, Theodore Daugherty, an engineer on one of the freight trains between this place and Harrisburg, heard a rustling, fluttering noise about the head-light of his locomotive, as he was running along in the vicinity of Thompsontown station, and on going forward to discover whence it proceeded, found a large hawk clinging to the edge of the lamp. It had evidently been prowling in the vicinity of the road at the time the train was passing, and became blinded by the bright light. When approached it showed fight, and Mr. D. had a severe scuffle to secure it, getting his coat torn by its claws, which it brandished savagely. He brought it to this place on the engine.

We notice among the arrivals at the Philadelphia Hotels, the name of Miss Jennie Scott, of this place. The character of her business there may be inferred from the fact that she keeps a fancy millinery store up street; therefore the ladies of Altoona and vicinity are requested not to worry themselves about new bonnets and other winter trimmings, as Miss Jennie will bring something to please every one of them. If they are not here in time for next Sunday, they will be for the Sunday following.

NEED NOT BE ASHAMED.—Mr. McCamant, the successful candidate for Sheriff, need not feel ashamed of the vote he received at home. By reference to the returns it will be seen that he far outstripped all his colleagues in Antes and Snyder townships and Tyrone Borough. There is where they know the man, and they testified that he was a good and competent man by voting for him almost irrespective of party.

OFFICERS ELECTED.—The following persons were elected officers of Altoona Division, No. 311, Sons of Temperance, for the quarter commencing 1st inst.

W. P.—Geo. W. Patton; W. A.—I. I. Smith, R. S.—Jeremiah Delo; A. R. S.—Joseph Shafer; F. S.—W. C. McCormick; F.—Michael Clabaugh; Chaplain—A. H. Sembower; C.—John Boyles; A. C.—Uriah Hockinberry; I. S.—Thos. Harmon; O. S.—Daniel Oswalt.

LEFT FOR HIS POST.—Maj. Geo. Raymond, late of the Blair County Whig, left with his family for Balize, Honduras, a few days since, to assume his duties as Consul of the United States, at that place. We wish him a safe journey and a pleasant sojourn for four years among the Balizeians.

APPOINTED.—Maj. Jesse R. Crawford, of Gaysport, this county, has been appointed Lieut. Colonel of one of the regiments now being raised at "Camp Crossman," near Huntingdon, for Gen. J. Y. James' Brigade. Mr. C. will make a good looking and, we have not the least doubt, an efficient officer.

COL. BLACK'S REGIMENT.—Sergeant Morris, of Capt. Crozier's company of Sharp-Shooters," attached to the above regiment, is now in this place for the purpose of enlisting men. In order that those desiring to enlist may have some knowledge of the character and condition of Col. Black's regiment, we subjoin the following account given by a correspondent:—Col. Black's regiment is at present in a fine condition. Perhaps there is not one in the field but has as many, if not more, on the sick list, and although there are a number sick yet the sickness is slight; they are only excused from duty, and I think are but becoming used to the change of climate. The officers of the respective companies are first class. So much complaint was heard of the three month officers that those who enlisted for "three years or during the war" were very particular into whose hands they committed themselves for so long a period.—Col. Black, it is but waste of time to say a word about; suffice it to say, his motto is "The interest of my regiment first—myself last."

Sergeant Morris has his head-quarters at the Altoona House, where all those desiring to enlist will find him.

NEW ENGINES.—The Pennsylvania Rail Road Company are placing a number of new engines on their road and among them we notice one of rather odd construction, intended for the Hollidaysburg Branch passenger train. It is very neat in appearance, and is so built that the fuel is kept under the floor of the engine, immediately behind the boiler, and the water in tanks on either side of the boiler, thus obviating the necessity of a tender, and making the affair look like an animal without a caudle apendage.

TO CURE THE CROUP.—The following is highly recommended by an exchange:—"A piece of fresh lard, as large as a butternut, rubbed up with sugar, in the same way that butter and sugar are prepared for the dressing of puddings, divided into three parts, and given at intervals of twenty minutes, will relieve any case of croup which is not already allowed to progress to the fatal point."

Numerous.—Strays from camp.

Bilious Affections,

LIVER COMPLAINT.

SICK HEADACHE, DYSPEPSIA, &C.

JAYNE'S SANATIVE PILLS,

A MILD, PROMPT & EFFECTIVE REMEDY.

THERE is scarcely any disease in which purgative medicines are not required; and much sickness and suffering might be prevented were they more generally used. No person can feel well while a costive habit of body prevails; besides, it soon generates serious and often fatal diseases, which might be avoided by the timely and judicious use of proper Cathartic medicines.

Convinced of the correctness of these views,

JAYNE'S SANATIVE PILLS

Are recommended with the greatest confidence, experience having demonstrated them to be far superior to any other in use, being more mild, prompt, safe and uniform in their operation. While using them no particular care is required, and patients may eat and drink as usual. Age will not impair them, as to always readily dissolve in the stomach. In small doses they are alterative and gently laxative, but in large doses are actively cathartic, cleansing the whole alimentary canal from all putrid, irritating and fecal matters.

For DYSPEPSIA, these Pills are really an invaluable article, gradually changing the vitiated secretions of the Stomach and Liver, and producing healthy action in those important organs. In cases of long standing, a cure will be more speedily effected by using, in conjunction with the Pills, either JAYNE'S ALTERATIVE or TONIC VERMIFUGE, according to directions.

For Liver Complaint, Gout, Jaundice, Affections of the Bladder and Kidneys, Fevers, Nervousness, Diseases of the Skin, Impurity of the Blood, Sik Headache, Costiveness, Piles, Female Diseases, and Billious Affections, these Pills have proved themselves eminently successful. All that is asked for them is a fair trial.

As these Pills have proved themselves so eminently successful in removing diseases of the Liver, Dyspepsia and diseases of the Skin, I have thought it advisable to add the following remarks on

LIVER COMPLAINT.

This is a disease much talked about, but at the same time very imperfectly understood.

Properly speaking, every derangement of the Liver or Billious system is a Liver Complaint, but the peculiar state of the Liver to which I now have reference is a Chronic Affection, and usually arises from a torpid or congestive state of that important organ. Sometimes the bile is deficient in quantity, or vitiated in quality, or both these states prevail at the same time. Sometimes the disease is owing to obstruction in the duct or pipe which conveys the bile from the liver into the bowels. This obstruction is very frequent, and is usually caused by the pipe being clogged up by thick tenacious slime or mucous, and sometimes by gall stones. The bile is then thrown back into the gall-bladder, where it is absorbed by numerous small vessels which convey it into the Thoracic Duct, a pipe that runs up along the spine, and terminates in and empties itself into the large vein of the left shoulder, near its junction with the veins of the head and neck, and thence the bile is conveyed to the heart and becomes mixed with the blood. The bile in this manner being diverted from its proper course, and circulating in a part of the body where it never was designed by nature, produces much evil, and often disastrous effects upon the health of the individual—because, for want of healthy bile to mix with the half-digested food, a complete separation never takes place between the chyle (the milky liquor which forms the blood) and those portions of the food designed by nature to be ejected from the bowels—for the bile, when present, purifies and separates the healthy from the unhealthy portions, in the same manner that isinglass or white of eggs separate wine or cider from their impurities—and, consequently, the very fountain of life is vitiated and corrupted. Costiveness prevails—or alternately costiveness or diarrhœa—wind in the stomach and bowels, and the patient is often annoyed with worms, and frequently with the piles. The coarse particles of the bile thus mixed with the blood, more or less obstruct the pores of the skin and small blood-vessels, and hence give rise to various diseases of the skin, such as erysipelas, cozema, itchings, small watery vessels, blotchess tumors, pimples, scurfiness, boils, sore eyes, sores and ulcers of various kinds. The skin is more or less yellow, and (when the disease is of long standing,) often very dark, and has a disagreeable, dirty, greasy appearance, and sometimes there is a perfect jaundice. The white of the eyes also has a green or yellow tinge.

MORE OR LESS bile is strained from the blood in its passage through the kidneys, and, by its acrimony, produces pains in the back, and scalds and irritates all the urinary passages. Some days the passage of urine is profuse, and natural in appearance; at other times it is scanty, and the desire to evacuate is frequent and urgent. Sometimes the color is nearly white and milky, but usually it is high colored, red or yellow, with a rank, offensive odor, and sometimes it is bloody.

The tongue is usually more or less coated with a brown scurf. There is irritation, and frequently chronic inflammation of the inner surface of the stomach and bowels, with a tenderness on pressure, and a soreness along the lower edge of the ribs.

SOMETIMES THERE IS A LOATHING of food, and at other times there is a voracious appetite. There is often a feeling of chilliness, and coldness of the feet and knees, and along the inside of the thighs—sour or bitter eructations, and sometimes a spitting or throwing up of the food after eating.

There is a feeling of oppression across the stomach and chest, as if pressed down by a weight; troublesome and often frightful dreams, low spirits, languor, want of energy, melancholy restlessness and discontentedness, dreaminess of mind—timorousness and a great deal of trouble, and a disposition to magnify everything, sometimes great watchfulness and an inability to sleep—at others great drowsiness, weariness, and disinclination to motion.

AT TIMES THE FACE is flushed, with more or less fever, especially at night or in the afternoon. Sometimes violent colics, and wandering pains in various parts of the body. Frequently there is a short hacking cough, with a huskiness of the throat, and sometimes a very severe, dry, and hard cough, which is often mistaken for consumption. This cough often commences in the latter part of the night or early in the morning, and lasts for hours, frequently producing nausea and vomiting. If there be any expectoration, it is a tough, ropy, tenacious phlegm, which adheres to everything it touches. There are also frequently chronic pleurisy pains in various parts of the chest, which shift about from one part of the breast or side to the other. Sometimes abscesses form in the liver, and pressing upward on the lungs, produce constriction and cough, and breaking, discharge their contents into the lungs, whence it must be ejected by expectoration, or the patient is destroyed. Some persons are troubled with spasmodic twitches in various parts of the body, sometimes faintness and sighing, difficulty of breathing; reading or talking producing weariness. THERE IS A BEATING SENSATION near the pit of the stomach, with palpitation and fluttering of the heart; profusion of dandruff and loss of the hair; indeed, to sum up in a few words—a yellow, dirty, greasy appearance of the skin, a yellow or green tinge of the white of the eyes, an aching pain across the kidneys and hips, with irritation or heat in discharging urine—a sensation of fullness or distension across the abdomen, with tenderness on pressure—lowness of spirits, frightful dreams, acidity of stomach, with other dyspeptic symptoms, billious fevers, billious colics and billious diarrhœa and dysenteries, obstinate costiveness, intermittent, and remittent fevers, jaundice, fever and ague, &c., all originate from the same cause—a deranged state of the liver. Violent remedies always do more harm than good; but, by a persevering use of these pills, all that can be desired will be accomplished.

THE MOST SUCCESSFUL TREATMENT is to give the patient, every night on going to bed, from two four Sanative pills; or enough of them to insure one and not more than two evacuations from the bowels next morning.—The dose of the Pills can be increased or diminished at pleasure, so as to produce the above effect, and their use should be continued until a cure is completed; and also, at the same time give the Alterative three times a day according to the directions, unless there is a want of appetite, with weakness and debility or symptoms of worms prevail, when, instead of the Alterative, give a teaspoonful of the Vermifuge, (mixed in a little cold water and sweetened to please the taste, about half an hour before each meal, until these symptoms are removed; and if there should be cough, or oppression about the throat or chest, then give the expectorant as often and in such doses as may be found necessary to quiet the cough and make expectoration easy.

The Sanative Pills, and all of DR. D. JAYNE'S Family Medicines, are sold by C. JAGGARD and G. W. KESSLER, Altoona, and by Agents everywhere, from whom may also be obtained, gratis, Jayne's Medical Almanac and Guide to Health, containing besides a valuable calendar, a Catalogue of Diseases, together with the symptoms by which they may be known, and the proper remedies for their cure.

COUGHS, COLDS,

CONSUMPTION,

ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, ETC.

JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT

Has been for Thirty Years the STANDARD REMEDY.

RECENT COUGHS AND COLDS, PLEURITIC PAINS, ETC., are quickly and effectually cured by its diaphoretic, soothing and expectorant power.

ASTHMA it always cures. It overcomes the spasmodic contraction of the air-vessels, and by producing free expectoration at once removes all difficulty of breathing.

BRONCHITIS readily yields to the Expectorant. It subdues the inflammation which extends through the wind-tubs, produces free expectoration, and suppresses at once the cough and pain.

CONSUMPTION.—For this insidious and fatal disease no remedy on earth has ever been found so effectual. It subdues the inflammation, relieves the cough and pain, removes the difficulty of breathing, and produces an easy expectoration, whereby all irritating and obstructing matters are removed from the lungs.

WHOOPING COUGH is promptly relieved by this Expectorant. It shortens the duration of the disease one-half, and greatly mitigates the suffering of the patient.

In all PULMONARY COMPLAINTS, in CROUP, PLEURISY, etc., it will be found to be prompt, safe, pleasant and reliable, and may be especially commended to MINISTERS, TEACHERS, and SINGERS for the relief of hoarseness, and for strengthening the organs of the voice.

This EXPECTORANT and all of DR. D. JAYNE'S Family Medicines are sold by C. JAGGARD and G. W. KESSLER, Altoona, and by Agents everywhere. [sep. 26-3m.

GREAT IMPROVEMENT IN COOKING STOVES.

CONSUMPTION OF SMOKE AND GAS AND SAVING OF FUEL.

The subscriber takes pleasure in offering to the public

NEW GAS AND SMOKE CONSUMING

Cooking Stove, recently patented, which is destined to supercede all others, as it requires

ONE-THIRD LESS FUEL

than other stoves and is more easily, quickly and regularly heated. No unpleasant smell of gas arises from this stove from the fact that it is all consumed ere it can escape. There is no trouble from smoke as that unpleasant and often annoying exhalation is also consumed inside of the stove Neither is there any danger of flues or chimneys becoming clogged with soot or the mortar loosened by the gas arising from coal fires.

Persons wishing to purchase stoves are invited to call at the store of the subscriber, in the Masonic Temple, and examine the above stoves. JOHN SHOEMAKER, Sole Agent for Blair County.
